Career Objective

To work for an organization which provides me the opportunity to improve my skills and knowledge to growth along with the organization objective.

Profile Summary

I am pursuing Ph.D on, "Political Economy of Urban Food Habits: Analyzing and Exploring Alternatives" from the Department of Political Science, University of Delhi, under the supervision of Professor Madhulika Banerjee. I am very enthusiastic and curious to understand the changing nature of urban food habits and how it is effected by the homogenizing tendency of modernization. My understanding over the agrarian issues enriched after reading optional paper like Politics of Development and Politics of Knowledge. I am keen to know much more about the new innovations and development in agricultural sector theoretical and practical on the ground as well. I have agricultural background and have wide experience in the agricultural activities. I am also attached with Gandi Bhawan, University of Delhi since 2010 as a yoga organizer. I have organized various seminars/workshop/events related with healthy living, food, natural treatment/drugless therapy and yoga/meditation at the national and international level.

I hail from Madhubani district of Bihar and rice is one of the major crops sown in our areas. The SRI project is an opportunity for me to know how sustainable and innovative approaches can be adapted in the agrarian sector.
