

Two Days INTERNATIONAL SEMINAR

Environment Discourse and Dialogues: Challenges and Strategies for a Sustainable Future by 2047

26-27 February, 2026

CALL FOR PAPERS

Escalating environmental challenges have placed sustainability and ecological responsibility at the forefront of global and national debates. Despite growing scientific knowledge and public awareness, environmental discourse remains fragmented, as ecological problems are deeply embedded in social, cultural, institutional, and political processes. This complexity makes it difficult to articulate unified explanations and actionable solutions.

The Viksit Bharat@2047 vision addresses this challenge by prioritizing sustainability and resilience through development pathways informed by the Indian knowledge system, promoting approaches that transcend narrow technocratic or sectoral frameworks.

Aligned with this vision, the international seminar “Environment Discourse and Dialogues: Challenges and Strategies for a Sustainable Future by 2047” provides an interdisciplinary platform for critically examining the roots and impacts of environmental crises and exploring pathways for mitigation and adaptation through dialogue among scholars, policymakers, researchers, and students.

Sub Themes

- Viksit Bharat@2047 Vision Goals for India and Environment
- Understanding of Environment across Different Cultures
- International Organisations and Environment
- Environment and Non-Traditional Security
- Blue Economy and Environment
- Environment and Indigenous Knowledge Systems
- Sustainable Development Discourse and Environment
- Coping with Environmental Disaster and its Management
- Decolonising Environmental Discourses

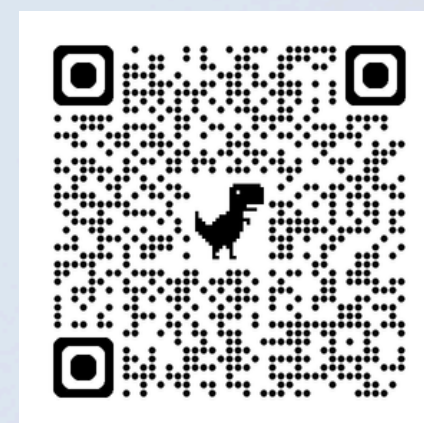

Important Dates:

Abstract Submission Deadline: 10 February 2026

Notification of Acceptance: 15 February 2026

Full Paper Submission Deadline: 22 February 2026

Scan the QR Code or use link below to submit the Abstract:
<https://forms.gle/pLfdq1QUqkWPJjE38>

Contact details:

Dr. Ningthoujam Koiremba Singh

Dr. Abhishek Choudhary

Email: polscseminar26@gmail.com